

Q. What is a "graphic novel"?

A. Graphic novels have a few defining characteristics. But first and most importantly, they are long comic books. (I'll get back to the rest.)

Q. What is a "comic book"?

A. You may think you know the answer to this one, but stick with me a few minutes:
A comic book is a magazine or bound book that contains "comics" (also known as "comix"). Comics is a medium for expressing information and/or artistic ideas that is defined by

... and that's it. However, comics also often feature such things as

"word balloons..."

... and sometimes, "thought balloons."

It's also common to have the sequential images delineated by "panels", which are surrounded by lines called "panel borders."

These techniques aren't necessary to make comics, but they are quite common. There are other common, familiar, but even more optional elements of many comics, such as certain kinds of characters, like funny animals or superheroes. But I'll get to that in a minute.

Here's how to read a comic:
